

Fisherman Rib Knit Baby Blanket Pattern

Cast on an even number of stitches. However wide you want your baby blanket to be. Then follow this pattern. I cast on 66 for my baby blanket.

Use any size needles you desire, keeping in mind the smaller the needles the more stitches you'll need.

PATTERN

Row 1: Purl all the way across

Row 2: and every row hereafter is constructed the same way. P1, K1B, P1 K1B etc. till last 2 stitches, then purl both.

So, to be clear, Row 3, 4, 5, 6 etc., will be the exact same as row 2. the fact that you end with the last two stitches as Purl creates the pattern.

Abbreviations Used:

P1 = purl 1 stitch

K1b = knit one stitch below
